

CFO SERIES ON BUILDING TRUST IN FINANCIAL REPORTING IN COMPLEX TIMES

Today, Corporate India, Lenders and Investors are facing challenges to comply with stricter norms on matters related to corporate governance and financial reporting. The fiduciary responsibilities of auditors and their relationship with board members and key managerial personnel (KMPs) are constantly under Regulators lens. CFOs' role to raise the standards of financial reporting continue to evolve, along with the heightened expectation of understanding various business risk, beyond finance and keeping pace with technology.

Against this background and with a view to equip the new-age CFO with strategies to deal with the latest challenges facing the fraternity and with the intent of presenting to the central government a summary paper of recommendations, Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) and National Foundation for Corporate Governance (NFCG - Ministry of Corporate Affairs led initiative) are organizing the CFO Series with the theme "Building Trust in Financial Reporting in Complex Times".

KEY ISSUES TO BE DISCUSSED

Panel 1: Building trust in financial reporting

- Need for changes to the reporting requirements in disclosures and frequency
- How audit committees can be more effective in their oversight role over financial reporting
- NFRA's role - to support the profession in providing better quality audits
- Multiplicity of Regulators and disciplinary/penal actions

Panel 2: Rising business complexities and the future of audit

- Appointment of auditors – joint audits and centralized appointment
- Expectation gap and how that can be bridged
- Capacity building- MDPs, use of experts and technology
- Addressing the talent and relearning gap in the profession
- Ensuring auditors independence and conflicts of interest
- Group audits
