Banasthali Vidyapith established in 1935, is the world's largest residential university for women, doing pioneer work in its field for more than eight decades. Banasthali embarked upon its journey with only five students and that initiative over the time has blossomed into a university having 15000 students on its 850-acre campus situated amidst rural settings in Rajasthan.

Banasthali with distinct educational ideology, aiming at synthesis of knowledge of east and west, offers a variety of programmes from nursery up to doctoral level across a wide spectrum of disciplines to prepare enlightened citizens with strong value-base amidst an ambience of Indian ethos & culture. Here the concept of five-fold education is followed which comprises physical, practical, aesthetic, intellectual and, above all, moral aspects to develop an integrated and balanced personality of the students besides the requisite professional training.

Banasthali is the only university in India to have its own flying club. It has licensed air strip, fleet of aircrafts and a well recognized and approved Aviation school.

Banasthali Vidyapith has preserved the Indian culture not in museum, but by living it. For the last 83 years it has kept pace with the advancements of contemporary times without compromising on Indian culture and ethos. This continuous adaptation to changing scenario, without losing the essence is in itself the fundamental ideology of the Indian Philosophy.
